

INTRODUCTION

The RESET & RISE movement was created for one purpose:
to help ordinary people achieve extraordinary goals through focused, disciplined action.

Momentum is powerful — but momentum alone doesn't change lives.

What inspires people is progress.

What hooks people is achievement.

What transforms people is finishing what they started.

The 7-Day Momentum Reboot helped you reset your mindset, clear the noise, and reconnect with the leader inside you. But a reset is only the beginning. Real growth requires consistency. Real confidence comes from action. Real belief is built through results.

That is where The 90-Day Momentum Run begins. THIS BOOKLET.

This booklet is not just a guide.

It is a commitment.

A contract with yourself.

A roadmap for the next season of your life.

Inside these pages, you will find the same principles used by top leaders around the world — the same structure that has helped thousands break through plateaus, rebuild confidence, and create results that compound long after the 90 days are over.

This is not a program for people who want to “try.”

This is for people who are ready to decide.

Over the next 90 days, you will shift from:

- managing to building
- hoping to executing
- wishing to working
- thinking to leading

You will learn how to prepare with intention, launch with intensity, and duplicate with clarity. You will discover the power of discipline, the strength of consistency, and the momentum that comes from honouring your commitments.

You will also read real stories from real people — leaders who have walked this path, faced the same fears, pushed through the same resistance, and came out stronger, clearer, and more confident.

RESET & RISE is not just a title.

It is a decision.

A posture.

A standard.

If you are holding this booklet, it means you are ready for more.

More growth.

More discipline.

More leadership.

More results.

This is your season to build.

This is your season to rise.

This is your 90-Day Momentum Run.

RESET & RISE is more than a program. It is a decision to build a life you control — a life defined by clarity, discipline, and purpose. It is a commitment to rise into the leader you were meant to be, and to help others rise with you.

This journey is about creating a life of freedom, impact, and legacy — and helping others do the same.

SECTION 1 — THE DECISION

Every breakthrough begins with a decision.

Not a feeling.

Not motivation.

Not excitement.

A decision.

The 90-Day Momentum Run is built on one truth:

You cannot rise without deciding who you are going to be and what you are going to achieve over the next 90 days.

This is not a season for half-effort or half-commitment.

This is a season for clarity, discipline, and leadership.

A season where you choose to build, not manage.

A season where you choose to finish, not try.

A season where you choose to honour your word, not your mood.

Most people never experience momentum because they never make a real decision.

They “hope” things will change.

They “wish” for better results.

They “try” to be consistent.

But hope is not a strategy, and trying is not a commitment.

A decision is different.

A decision is a line in the sand.

A decision is identity.

A decision is leadership.

When you decide, everything else becomes simple.

Not easy — but simple.

You stop negotiating with your excuses.

You stop waiting for motivation.

You stop allowing your emotions to lead your actions.

You stop giving energy to things that don't move you forward.

A true decision removes Plan B.

It removes the exit door.

It removes the option to quit.

This is the foundation of the 90-Day Momentum Run.

Before you prepare, before you launch, before you track anything, you must decide:

- Who will I be during this 90-day run?
- What will I finish, build, or achieve by Day 90?
- What standard will I hold myself to?
- What am I willing to sacrifice to honour this commitment?
- What am I no longer willing to tolerate in my habits, excuses, or environment?

This is not about perfection.

This is about consistency.

This is about honouring your word.

This is about becoming the person who finishes what they start.

The next pages are your first commitments.

Your first contract.

Your first leadership declarations.

Take them seriously.

Write them with intention.

Sign them with conviction.

This is the moment you shift from wishing to deciding.

From hoping to building.

From thinking to leading.

This is where your 90-Day Momentum Run truly begins.

NAME YOUR 90-DAY PROJECT

Every 90-Day Run needs a mission — a clear, specific project that defines what you are building, finishing, or achieving.

Your direction.

Your finish line.

DEFINE YOUR DAY-90 OUTCOME

Momentum is powerful, but achievement is what inspires.

SECTION 2. TESTIMONY STORIES

These stories build belief, relatability, and emotional connection.

TESTIMONY 1 — SARA'S STORY

Sara joined the RESET & RISE journey at a time when she felt stuck — not because she lacked potential, but because she had lost confidence in her ability to finish what she started. She had tried before. She had started before. She had stopped before. And she was tired of disappointing herself.

The 7-Day Momentum Reboot gave her the reset she needed.

But it was the 90-Day Momentum Run that changed everything.

Sandra made a decision:

“For the next 90 days, I will honour my word.”

She didn't have perfect days.

She didn't have perfect circumstances.

But she had commitment.

She followed the Whisper Campaign exactly as instructed.

She launched with courage.

She stayed consistent even when her emotions tried to negotiate.

She kept her standards high.

She protected her environment.

She honoured her calendar.

By Day 90, Sandra had:

- rebuilt her confidence
- developed new habits
- grown her team
- increased her income
- become a leader others looked up to

But the biggest transformation was internal. She became the woman who finishes what she starts.

TESTIMONY 2 — LEAH'S STORY

◆ STEP 1 — THE DECISION

'If someone you loved dearly would be affected if you didn't hit your goal in 90 days, would your commitment look different?'

That question changed everything for me.

It made me understand what real commitment looks like.

If you say you want to do it, you must mean it.

You must be clear about your end goal and attach real commitment to it.

◆ STEP 2 — PREPARATION

I was told, "The person with the clicker gets paid quicker."

The presenter earns faster than everyone else.

That exposed my weaknesses — and forced me to grow.

I learned to present.

I learned to lead.

I learned to step up.

Preparation made me realise that success is not an accident — it's built.

◆ STEP 3 — PRE-LAUNCH

I set a clear target for my 90-day run.

I knew exactly what I needed to hit — and by when.

If my actual numbers fell behind, I increased my intensity.

No excuses.

No delays.

Just adjustments and action.

The Whisper Campaign helped me build belief and momentum before the launch even started.

◆ STEP 4 — LAUNCH

During the launch, I made a decision:

Anything that wasn't going to bring money or momentum was not happening.

No unnecessary family meetings.

No social outings.

No distractions.

For 10 days, I was locked in.

Focused.

Disciplined.

Committed.

That season taught me the power of concentrated effort.

◆ STEP 5 — POST-LAUNCH

After the launch, I focused on helping newcomers duplicate quickly.

I taught them how to get small wins fast.

I taught them how to follow the system.

I taught them how to build confidence.

Duplication became the heartbeat of my team — and that's where real momentum came from.

This system didn't just help me build a business — it helped me build myself."

— Leah

TESTIMONY 3 — ELIAN

"Before the 90-Day Run, I was comfortable.

I was a former basketball player, and I treated my network marketing business the same way — relaxed, casual, doing enough to stay in the game but not enough to win.

Everything changed the day I attended an event where Eric Worre interviewed a man on stage.

The man shared that he had gone from earning $40,000 a year to $400,000.

And Eric responded, 'That's cute.'

In that moment, I felt like he was talking directly to me.

That was the moment I made my decision."

◆ STEP 1 — THE DECISION

As leaders, we often get stuck in management mode.

The 90-Day Run forces you back into building mode.

It gave me what I call the "Day 1 arrogance" — the confidence, hunger, and fire to commit fully.

I realised something important:

Don't start if you want to try.
Only start if you are committed to finish.

Because there will be days when:

- you don't feel like talking to people
- you feel demotivated
- you question everything
- you want to slow down
- you want to negotiate with yourself

You must be ready for those days — and finish anyway. That day at the event, I made a decision I refused to break.

◆ STEP 2 — PREPARATION

I told my team upfront:

“I will not be available for you during these 90 days.
I don't expect you to do it — but I need you to know I won't be present.”

I wasn't abandoning them.
I was modelling leadership.

I wanted to rebuild in 90 days what took me seven years to create.

And something unexpected happened:

I planned to do it alone... but some of my top leaders joined me.

That's the power of example.

◆ STEP 3 — PRE-LAUNCH

Pre-launch is unique — and it must involve your family.

This phase was like signing a contract.
It created accountability. It set the right precedent in my home:

When I make a decision, I honour it. I sat down with my wife and asked her to take over my responsibilities for the 90 days. Her support gave me peace and focus.

I built my Whisper Campaign list — 92 names.

I got many “no’s.”
Only 18 joined.

But here’s the magic: Some of those 18 only launched four months later — and if they weren’t on that list, they would have never done it.

♦ STEP 4 — THE LAUNCH

Call me crazy —

I booked a hotel room for four nights so I wouldn’t be disturbed.

I locked myself in. I knew the first five days would determine the speed of the entire run. I did all four income-producing activities every single day:

- Invitations
- Presentations
- Closing
- Follow-ups

And I asked my team to choose three personal disciplines they would commit to daily — something fully in their control like:

- No sugar
- 10,000 steps
- 3 litres of water
- Cold showers

These habits transformed their energy, their mindset, and their confidence.

I told them:

“I cannot promise your business will change — but I can promise YOU will change.”

♦ STEP 5 — POST-LAUNCH

We always extend the run by two extra weeks.

This gives people time to:

- rank up
- finish strong
- be recognised on stage

Even if their story is simply about losing weight or becoming more disciplined — that transformation matters.

We also plan the entire year first, then break it down:

- 12-month goals
- 6-month goals
- 3-month goals

Why?

Because results don't always show up immediately after the 90 days.

Some of my people ranked up three times — six months after the run ended.

♦ THE INCOME TRANSFORMATION

Before the 90-Day Run, I was earning around $40,000 per year.

After the 90-Day Run — and the duplication it created — my income grew to over $400,000 per year.

Not because of luck.
Not because of talent.
Because of a decision.

◆ THE IDENTITY SHIFT

“The 90-Day Run didn’t just change my business — it changed my identity.

It reminded me what it feels like to compete, to commit, and to win.”

— Elian

SECTION 3 — MINDSET & IDENTITY

The 90-Day Momentum Run is not a business challenge.

It is an identity challenge.

Your habits matter.

Your actions matter.

Your numbers matter.

But nothing matters more than who you become in the process.

Most people try to change their results by changing their activity.

Leaders change their results by changing their identity.

The 90-Day Run works because it forces you to stop operating from the identity that created your current results — and step into the identity that can create your next level.

1. THE IDENTITY SHIFT

Every breakthrough begins with a shift in identity.

You move from:

- interested → committed
- casual → intentional
- emotional → disciplined
- reactive → proactive
- hopeful → certain
- follower → leader

The moment you decide who you are going to be for the next 90 days, everything else aligns.

Identity drives behavior.

Behavior drives results.

Results reinforce identity.

This is why the 90-Day Run transforms people long before it transforms their business.

2. THE MINDSET OF A FINISHER

The 90-Day Run is not about starting strong.

It is about finishing strong.

Finishers think differently.

They operate differently.

They respond differently.

Finishers:

- honour their word
- do the work even when they don't feel like it
- don't negotiate with themselves
- don't wait for motivation

- don't rely on emotion
- don't break their standards

A finisher doesn't ask, "Do I feel like it?"

A finisher asks, "What did I commit to?"

This mindset alone separates leaders from the crowd.

3. THE MINDSET OF NO NEGOTIATION

The biggest enemy of the 90-Day Run is self-negotiation.

- "I'll do it later."
- "I'm tired."
- "I'll catch up tomorrow."
- "I don't feel like it today."
- "I'll start again next week."

These are the sentences that destroy momentum.

During the 90-Day Run, you adopt a new rule:

"I do what I said I would do — especially when I don't feel like it."

Discipline is not about feeling good.

Discipline is about honouring your word.

4. THE MINDSET OF EXTREME OWNERSHIP

For 90 days, you take full responsibility for:

- your activity
- your energy
- your calendar
- your follow-ups
- your results
- your growth
- your leadership

No blaming.

No excuses.

No stories.

No outsourcing responsibility.

Extreme ownership is the foundation of leadership.

When you take ownership, you take control.

When you take control, you create momentum.

5. THE MINDSET OF DAILY CONSISTENCY

The 90-Day Run is built on one principle:

No zero days.

Even if you can only give 1%, you give that 1%.

Consistency beats intensity.
Consistency builds identity.
Consistency creates momentum.
Small daily actions compound into massive results.

6. THE IDENTITY OF A LEADER

Leadership is not a title.
Leadership is an identity.
A leader:

- goes first
- sets the pace
- sets the standard
- shows the way
- builds belief
- builds people
- builds culture

Your team will not do what you say.
They will do what you model.

The 90-Day Run is where you become the leader your team wants to follow.

7. THE IDENTITY OF A BUILDER

During the 90-Day Run, you shift from:

- managing → building
- supporting → producing
- waiting → creating
- hoping → executing

Builders don't wait for momentum.

Builders create momentum.

This identity is what separates average performers from top earners.

8. THE IDENTITY OF A CHAMPION

Champions are not born.

Champions are built.

Champions:

- train their mind
- protect their energy
- guard their environment
- stay focused
- stay disciplined
- stay committed
- stay hungry

The 90-Day Run is your training ground.
It is where you build the champion version of yourself.

9. THE MINDSET OF LONG-TERM VISION

The 90-Day Run is not about 90 days.

It is about the person you become after the 90 days.

Your new identity will:

- change your habits
- change your confidence
- change your leadership
- change your results
- change your future

The 90-Day Run is the spark.

Your identity is the fuel.

10. THE IDENTITY DECLARATION

“I am disciplined.

I am focused.

I am consistent.

I honour my word.

I finish what I start.

I am the leader my team needs.

This is who I am now.”

SECTION 4 — ENERGY & ENVIRONMENT MASTERY

Your energy is your greatest asset during the 90-Day Momentum Run.
Your environment is your greatest advantage.

Most people fail not because they lack skill, but because they:

- leak energy
- tolerate distractions
- operate in chaotic environments
- allow emotional noise to drain their focus
- stay accessible to the wrong people at the wrong time

The 90-Day Run requires a different level of energetic discipline and environmental control.

This is where you protect your momentum, your mind, and your mission.

1. THE ENERGY PRINCIPLE: Protect the Source

Your energy determines:

- your posture
- your confidence
- your decision-making
- your productivity
- your leadership presence

During the 90-Day Run, you must protect the source of your energy:

- your sleep
- your nutrition
- your hydration
- your movement
- your mental clarity
- your emotional boundaries

When your energy is high, your business grows.
When your energy is low, everything slows.

Energy is not a luxury — it is a leadership responsibility.

2. THE ENVIRONMENT PRINCIPLE: Control the Space

Your environment shapes your behavior more than your motivation does.

A powerful environment:

- reduces friction
- eliminates distractions
- increases focus
- supports discipline
- reinforces identity

During the 90-Day Run, you intentionally design your environment to support your goals.

This includes:

- a clean workspace
- a quiet area for presentations
- a blocked calendar
- a phone on Do Not Disturb
- a supportive home agreement
- a team that understands your boundaries

Environment is not accidental — it is engineered.

3. THE MORNING ADVANTAGE

Your mornings set the tone for your entire day.

During the 90-Day Run, mornings are sacred.

A powerful morning routine includes:

- hydration
- movement
- silence or meditation
- gratitude
- reviewing your goals
- reviewing your calendar
- setting your top 3 priorities

When you win your morning, you win your day.
When you win your day, you win your 90 days.

4. THE EVENING RESET

Your evenings determine your next day's momentum.

A powerful evening routine includes:

- reviewing your numbers
- planning tomorrow's presentations
- preparing your workspace
- clearing mental clutter
- shutting down screens early
- protecting your sleep

Momentum is not built in the morning — momentum is built the night before.

5. THE ENERGY LEAKS TO ELIMINATE

During the 90-Day Run, you eliminate anything that drains your energy:

- gossip
- negativity
- emotional drama
- unnecessary arguments

- low-value conversations
- scrolling without purpose
- people who drain your spirit
- environments that distract you

You cannot build momentum while entertaining energy leaks.

Your energy is sacred.

Protect it like your future depends on it — because it does.

6. THE POWER OF ENVIRONMENTAL AGREEMENTS

Your family, partner, or household must understand your commitment.

A simple conversation creates clarity:

- “For the next 90 days, I will be focused.”
- “I may not be available like usual.”
- “This is temporary, but important.”
- “I need your support and understanding.”

When your environment supports your mission, your results multiply.

7. THE DIGITAL ENVIRONMENT

Your digital world must match your goals.

During the 90-Day Run:

- turn off notifications
- remove distracting apps
- unfollow negative accounts
- mute unnecessary group chats

- use Do Not Disturb during presentations
- keep your calendar visible
- keep your goals visible

Your phone can be your greatest tool or your greatest distraction.
You decide.

8. THE ENERGY HABITS OF HIGH PERFORMERS

High performers maintain their energy through simple, powerful habits:

- drinking 2–3 litres of water
- walking 8,000–10,000 steps
- eating clean, energizing foods
- taking cold showers
- practicing breathwork
- reading 10–20 minutes daily
- protecting their sleep
- limiting caffeine
- journaling for clarity

These habits are not about health — they are about identity and performance.

9. THE ENVIRONMENT OF A LEADER

A leader's environment reflects their standards.

A leader's environment is:

- clean
- organized
- intentional
- distraction-free
- inspiring
- aligned with their goals

Your environment should remind you of your commitment — not your comfort zone.

10. THE ENERGY & ENVIRONMENT DECLARATION

“I protect my energy.

I control my environment.

I eliminate distractions.

I create space for momentum.

I operate like the leader I am becoming.”

SECTION 5 — PREPARATION

Preparation is the foundation of every successful 90-Day Momentum Run.

You cannot build momentum on chaos.

You cannot lead from confusion.

You cannot win with scattered energy.

The next 90 days will demand focus, discipline, and consistency — and preparation is how you protect those three things. When you prepare properly, you remove friction. You remove excuses. You remove overwhelm. You remove the emotional resistance that normally stops people before they even begin.

Preparation is not about perfection.

It is about positioning yourself to win.

This section will help you:

1. Build your list
2. Segment your list
3. Craft your story
4. Block your calendar
5. Set your habits
6. Prepare your tools
7. Create your environment
8. Establish your standards

When you prepare well, the launch becomes easier, the daily actions become smoother, and the results become predictable.

Let's begin.

1. BUILD YOUR LIST

Your list is your inventory.

Your list is your starting point.

Your list is your runway for the next 90 days.

Do not judge people.

Do not filter people.

Do not decide for people.

Your job is to list, not to label.

List as many names as you can, without overthinking:

- Friends
- Family
- Colleagues
- Former colleagues
- Social media connections
- People you admire
- People you respect
- People who respect you
- People who need a change
- People who are hungry
- People who are stuck
- People who are ambitious

Goal: 100–200 names

(You won't contact all of them — but you need options.)

2. SEGMENT YOUR LIST

Once your list is built, you must segment it.

Segmentation creates clarity and speed.

Use three simple categories:

A-List (High Trust / High Influence)

People who know you, trust you, and respect you.
These are your strongest prospects.

B-List (Warm Contacts)

People you know casually or haven't spoken to in a while.

C-List (Cold / Low Trust)

People you don't know well or haven't connected with yet.

Your Whisper Campaign will focus on the A-List.
Your 70-in-10 will expand into the B-List and C-List.

3. CRAFT YOUR STORY

Your story is your most powerful tool.
People don't connect to information — they connect to emotion.

Your story should be:

- Short
- Honest
- Clear
- Relatable
- Outcome-focused

Use this simple structure:

1. Where you were
2. What you didn't like
3. What you found
4. Why you're excited
5. Where you're going

This is the story you will use during your Whisper Campaign and your launch.

AMOS BALOYI — MY STORY

My name is Amos Baloyi from the East Rand in Gauteng, South Africa. I'm married and blessed with two daughters.

For over 25 years, I worked in manufacturing — starting as a trainee toolmaker and eventually moving into senior management with companies like Nampak and Coca-Cola. But leadership in production comes with heavy pressure. If a production line stopped for more than 20 minutes, I had to be available — day or night. Holidays were interrupted. Nights were interrupted. Over time, I realised something: I was earning a good salary... but I did not own my time. My life belonged to the job.

When I looked at my retirement projections, it became clear: if I continued on that path, I would retire tired — and not financially free. That was my wake-up call.

I decided I needed a business, not just another income. Something that could give me time freedom, financial growth, and a way to build something of my own.

That search led me to APLGO. After studying the business model and the system, I made a decision to start as an independent affiliate — knowing that results would come from consistent effort and leadership.

Over the past three years, the journey has been rewarding — not only financially, but personally. What gives me the greatest satisfaction is helping others create additional income and new possibilities for their families. Seeing someone move from financial stress to confidence... that is the real reward.

I am building a life of freedom, impact, and legacy — and helping others do the same. What kind of life do you want to build for yourself and your family?

4. BLOCK YOUR CALENDAR

If it's not in your calendar, it won't happen.

Choose your non-negotiable work blocks:

- Daily prospecting time
- Daily follow-up time
- Weekly team call
- Weekly personal review
- Weekly training
- Launch windows
- Quiet focus time

Protect these blocks like appointments with your future.

5. PREPARE YOUR TOOLS

You cannot run a 90-day sprint with missing tools.

Prepare:

- Your presentation link
- Your scripts
- Your follow-up messages
- Your daily tracker
- Your weekly review template
- Your product information
- Your onboarding system
- Your WhatsApp broadcast list
- Your notes app or notebook

When your tools are ready, your confidence increases.

1. Follow-Up After Sending Information

(Presentation link, video, PDF, voice note)

Message 1 — 24 hours later

“Hey, just checking in — were you able to take a look at the info I sent you?”

If they say YES:

“Great! What did you like most about what you saw?”

If they say NO:

“No stress at all. When do you think you’ll have a moment to check it out?”

2. Follow-Up After a Positive Response

(They liked something)

“Awesome! The part you liked is exactly what got my attention too. Would you like to see how it works step-by-step?”

3. Follow-Up After a Neutral Response

(They’re unsure)

“No problem — most people feel that way at first. What would you need to see or understand to know if this could be a fit for you?”

4. Follow-Up After No Response (Ghosting)

(Send 48–72 hours later)

Message 1:

“Hey, just circling back — did you still want me to keep you in the loop?”

Message 2 (if still no reply):

“Totally okay if now isn’t the right time. I’ll step back for now. If anything changes, I’m here.”

This keeps posture strong and removes pressure.

5. Follow-Up After a “Not Now”

“Completely understand. Timing is everything. I’ll check in with you again in a few weeks. In the meantime, if anything changes on your side, just let me know.”

6. Follow-Up After a “Yes, I’m Interested”

“Perfect. Let’s set up a quick 10-minute call so I can show you the next steps. What works better for you — today or tomorrow?”

7. Follow-Up After a Presentation

“Thanks for taking the time to watch. What stood out to you the most?”

This question opens the door without pressure.

8. Follow-Up After They Join

“Welcome aboard! I’m excited to work with you. I’ll send you your onboarding steps in a moment so we can get you started strong.”

This transitions directly into your onboarding system.

A strong Weekly Review Template is one of the most important tools in your entire RESET & RISE system, because it turns activity into awareness, awareness into adjustment, and adjustment into momentum.

SECTION 6 — PRE-LAUNCH (WHISPER CAMPAIGN)

Before you launch your 90-Day Momentum Run, you must create anticipation, curiosity, and emotional readiness.

This is the purpose of the Whisper Campaign.

Most people fail in their 90-day runs because they launch too quickly, without building the emotional runway needed for a powerful start. The Whisper Campaign solves this. It warms up your strongest contacts, builds belief, and positions you as someone stepping into a serious season of growth.

This is not selling.

This is not presenting.

This is not explaining.

This is whispering — planting seeds, creating curiosity, and preparing the ground before the launch.

The Whisper Campaign is your pre-launch advantage.

1. WHAT THE WHISPER CAMPAIGN IS

The Whisper Campaign is a short, private, personal message sent to a select group of people you trust and respect.

It is designed to:

- Build curiosity
- Create emotional support
- Establish accountability
- Position your 90-day run as a serious project
- Prepare your A-List for your upcoming launch

This is not about convincing anyone.

It is about informing and inviting support.

2. WHY THE WHISPER CAMPAIGN WORKS

It works because:

- People support what they help create
- People respect commitment
- People respond to seriousness
- People are drawn to growth
- People want to be part of something meaningful

When you whisper, you activate:

- Emotional buy-in
- Social accountability
- Curiosity
- Respect
- Momentum

This creates a warm environment for your launch.

3. CHOOSE YOUR 20 PEOPLE

These are your A-List contacts — the people who:

- Trust you
- Respect you
- Believe in you
- Want to see you win
- Have influence
- Have leadership qualities
- Have supported you before

Choose 20 names from your segmented list.

These 20 people will receive your Whisper message.

4. THE WHISPER SCRIPT

Use this simple, duplicatable Whisper message:

“Hey, I’m about to start a serious 90-day project that’s really important to me.

You don’t need to join anything — I just want you to know I’m going all in. I’ll share more soon, but for now, I’d love your support as I step into this season.”

Short.

Clean.

No pressure.

No details.

Just curiosity + support.

5. WHISPER CALL FLOW

If someone responds with interest, use this flow:

1. Acknowledge

“Thanks, I appreciate the support.”

2. Reinforce seriousness

“This 90-day project is a big deal for me.”

3. Hold the line

“I’ll share more when I launch — right now I’m just preparing.”

4. Stay calm

Do not explain.

Do not present.

Do not sell.

The Whisper Campaign is about positioning, not pitching.

5. Whisper Do / Don’t Guide

DO:

- Keep it short
- Keep it calm

- Keep it personal
- Keep it private
- Keep it pressure-free
- Keep curiosity alive

DON'T:

- Don't explain
- Don't present
- Don't sell
- Don't send long messages
- Don't answer detailed questions
- Don't break posture
- Don't reveal your launch plan

SECTION 7 — THE LAUNCH

The Launch is the ignition point of your 90-Day Momentum Run.
It is the moment where you shift from planning to execution, from intention to discipline, from desire to identity.

The first 10 days determine the next 80.

This is where momentum is created, belief is built, and leadership is forged.

The Launch is not about perfection.
It is about intensity, focus, and consistency.

1. THE PURPOSE OF THE LAUNCH

The Launch exists to:

- create immediate momentum
- activate your list
- fill your calendar
- sharpen your skills
- build your confidence
- set your identity for the next 90 days

Most people fail because they start slow.
The Launch forces you to start fast, focused, and fully committed.

2. THE LAUNCH MINDSET

For 10 days, you adopt a temporary identity:

“Anything that does not bring momentum or money is not happening.”

This is not forever.

This is not your new lifestyle.

This is a season of concentrated effort.

During the Launch:

- no unnecessary social outings
- no random errands
- no emotional distractions
- no time-wasting conversations
- no negotiating with yourself

You are locked in.

You are focused.

You are building.

3. THE 4 INCOME-PRODUCING ACTIVITIES (IPAs)

Every day of the Launch, you complete all four:

- Invitations
- Presentations
- Closing
- Follow-ups

These four activities build your business.

Everything else is noise.

If you do these four every day, you win.
If you skip them, you slow down.

4. THE 70-IN-10 METHOD

The 70-in-10 Method is the engine of your Launch.

It means:

70 presentations in 10 days.

Not 70 messages.
Not 70 invitations.
Not 70 conversations.

70 full exposures to the information.

A presentation counts when someone sees the full story:

- a Zoom presentation
- a 1-on-1 video call
- a 3-way call
- a home meeting
- a recorded presentation (watched fully)
- a live event
- a small group session

If they see the full information, it counts. If they don't, it doesn't.

Why 70? Because volume creates momentum.

When you do 70 presentations in 10 days:

- your confidence skyrockets
- your skill sharpens
- your fear disappears
- your posture strengthens
- your follow-ups become easier
- your team starts duplicating

- your calendar fills
- your business explodes

This is why leaders say:

“If you want to change your life, change your first 10 days.”

5. HOW TO HIT 70 PRESENTATIONS

You don't do it alone.

You do it through:

- your Whisper Campaign
- your A-List
- your team plugging into your Zooms
- your leaders running presentations
- your recorded presentation link
- your daily Launch rhythm

You are not doing 70 presentations.

You are creating 70 exposures.

6. THE LAUNCH ENVIRONMENT

Your environment determines your focus.

During the Launch:

- block your calendar
- protect your mornings
- reduce distractions
- create a quiet workspace
- communicate with your family
- set expectations with your team

Some leaders even book a hotel room for the first 3–5 days — not because they have to, but because they understand the power of environment.

7. THE LAUNCH HABITS

Choose three personal disciplines you will commit to daily:

Examples:

- no sugar
- 10,000 steps
- 3 litres of water
- cold showers
- 20 minutes of reading
- 10 minutes of meditation

These habits are not about business — they are about identity.

When you control your habits,
you control your energy.
When you control your energy,
you control your results.

8. THE LAUNCH TRACKER

During the Launch, track:

- number of invitations
- number of presentations
- number of follow-ups
- number of closes
- number of new customers
- number of new affiliates

Tracking creates awareness.
Awareness creates adjustment.
Adjustment creates momentum.

9. THE LAUNCH RULE

No zero days.

Even if you can only give 1%,
you give that 1%.

Momentum is not built through perfection —
it is built through consistency.

10. THE LAUNCH PROMISE

The Launch will challenge you.
It will stretch you.
It will expose your habits.
It will reveal your discipline.

But it will also:

- build your confidence
- build your posture
- build your belief
- build your momentum
- build your identity

The Launch is where you become the person who finishes what they start.

11. THE LAUNCH DECLARATION

“For the next 10 days, I am fully committed.
I honour my word.
I honour my goals.
I honour my future.”

SECTION 8. FAQ — 70-IN-10 & PRESENTATION RULES

The purpose of 70-in-10 is repetition, not shortcuts.

So the rule stays: 1 presentation = 1 presentation.

If you present to:

- 10 people → counts as 1 presentation
- 30 people → counts as 1 presentation
- 100 people → still counts as 1 presentation

But...

Each person becomes a follow-up.

And follow-ups are where the money is.

So a group presentation gives you:

- 1 presentation
- 10 follow-ups
- 10 exposures
- 10 potential customers
- 10 potential affiliates

This is why leaders LOVE group presentations — not because they count as multiple presentations, but because they create multiple follow-ups.

Does a group presentation count as multiple presentations?

No. One presentation — whether it's to 1 person or 100 people — counts as one presentation.

The 70-in-10 method is designed to build your skill, posture, and consistency.

Counting group presentations as multiple would break the system and remove the discipline that makes the 90-Day Run powerful.

However, a group presentation gives you multiple follow-ups, and follow-ups are where the business grows.

What if someone doesn't show up to the presentation?

If they don't show up, it does not count as a presentation.

A presentation only counts when someone sees the full information.

But the no-show becomes a follow-up opportunity.

You simply message them:

“Hey, I missed you on the call — would you like the next live session or the recorded version?”

No emotion. No frustration. Just sorting.

What if someone only watches half the presentation?

Half a presentation = not a presentation.

A full exposure is required because:

- half information creates half belief
- half belief creates no decision
- no decision creates no momentum

If they leave early, you follow up and invite them to a full session or send the full recorded version.

Does a recorded presentation count?

Yes — if they watch it fully.

A recorded presentation counts as long as:

- they confirm they watched it
- you follow up immediately after
- you treat it with the same posture as a live presentation

Recorded presentations are powerful because they allow you to scale your exposures without burning out.

What if I present to someone in person without slides?

It still counts — as long as you deliver the full information clearly and confidently.

The 90-Day Run is about exposures, not format.

What if I do a 3-way call with my upline?

It counts as one presentation.

3-way calls are excellent for:

- posture
- closing
- duplication
- leadership development

But the rule stays the same:

1 exposure = 1 presentation.

What if someone watches the presentation later than planned?

It still counts — as long as they watch the full information.

The timing doesn't matter.

The exposure does.

What if I do multiple presentations in one day?

Perfect.

There is no daily limit.

You can do:

- 3 presentations one day
- 12 the next
- 7 the next

Your goal is 70 in 10 days, not 7 per day.

What if I finish 70 before Day 10?

You keep going.

The 90-Day Run rewards:

- speed
- intensity
- volume
- leadership

If you hit 70 early, you are in rare territory — keep presenting and build massive momentum.

What if I fall behind?

You adjust your intensity.

If you're behind your numbers, you increase:

- your invitations
- your exposures
- your follow-ups
- your presentation frequency

The 90-Day Run is not about perfection — it's about finishing.

Why is the 70-in-10 rule so strict?

Because the 90-Day Run is designed to:

- break old habits
- build new identity
- sharpen your skill
- increase your confidence
- create duplication
- produce results fast

If the rules are flexible, the transformation disappears.

Why can't I count 1 presentation with 10 people as 10?

Because the 70-in-10 is about your discipline, not the audience size.

If you count group presentations as multiple:

- people will take shortcuts
- duplication collapses
- the standard drops
- the identity shift disappears

The 90-Day Run works because the rules are simple, strict, and duplicatable.

What if someone asks, "Why can't I count it as 10?"

You teach them:

"The 70-in-10 is not about shortcuts — it's about building your skill.

One presentation = one presentation.

But a group presentation gives you multiple follow-ups, and that's where the business grows."

This keeps the system clean and powerful.

SECTION 10 — POST-LAUNCH

The Post-Launch phase is where the real business begins.

The Launch creates momentum — but the Post-Launch converts that momentum into results, duplication, and long-term growth.

Most people think the Launch is the peak.

Leaders know the Launch is only the beginning.

The Post-Launch phase is where:

- your follow-ups turn into decisions
- your prospects turn into customers
- your customers turn into affiliates
- your affiliates turn into leaders
- your leaders turn into momentum

This is the phase that separates activity from achievement.

1. THE PURPOSE OF THE POST-LAUNCH

The Post-Launch exists to:

- convert exposures into enrollments
- help new people launch quickly
- build duplication
- stabilize momentum
- create predictable growth
- prepare your team for the next 90 days

The Launch builds speed.

The Post-Launch builds structure.

2. THE FOLLOW-UP PHASE

Your Launch created a wave of exposures.
Now you turn those exposures into decisions.

Follow-ups are where:

- trust is built
- questions are answered
- objections are handled
- decisions are made

Most people don't say yes on the first exposure.
They say yes on the follow-up.

Your Post-Launch rhythm:

- follow up daily
- follow up with posture
- follow up without pressure
- follow up without emotion
- follow up until they decide

The fortune is not in the follow-up.
The fortune is in the consistent follow-up.

3. THE DUPLICATION PHASE

The Post-Launch is where duplication becomes the heartbeat of your team.

Your goal is not to sign people.
Your goal is to launch people.

A new person must:

- get their first customer
- get their first affiliate

- do their first presentation
- experience their first win
- feel their first momentum

Small wins create belief.

Belief creates action.

Action creates duplication.

Your job is to help them win fast.

4. THE TWO-WEEK EXTENSION

Leaders extend the run by two extra weeks.

Why?

Because the extra two weeks:

- give people time to rank up
- allow follow-ups to convert
- help new people launch properly
- create recognition stories
- stabilize the momentum created in the Launch

The extension is not optional.

It is strategic.

The Launch creates the wave.

The extension helps your team ride the wave.

5. THE YEARLY PLAN BREAKDOWN

The Post-Launch is where you zoom out and align your long-term vision.

You plan the entire year first, then break it down:

- 12-month goals
- 6-month goals
- 3-month goals

Why? Because results don't always show up immediately after the 90 days.

Some people rank up:

- 3 months later
- 6 months later
- even 12 months later

The seeds you plant during the 90-Day Run grow long after the run is over.

6. THE LEADERSHIP PHASE

The Post-Launch is where you shift from:

builder → leader

Your focus becomes:

- developing new leaders
- teaching the system
- reinforcing habits
- protecting culture
- maintaining standards
- preparing your team for the next run

Leadership is not about managing people.

Leadership is about multiplying people.

7. THE POST-LAUNCH IDENTITY

The Post-Launch is where your identity solidifies.

You become:

- consistent
- disciplined
- structured
- focused
- confident
- duplicatable

The Launch builds momentum.

The Post-Launch builds you.

8. THE POST-LAUNCH DECLARATION

“I convert my momentum into results.

I turn activity into achievement.

I build leaders.

I build duplication.

I build long-term momentum.”

SECTION 11 — DAILY & WEEKLY RHYTHM TOOLS

The 90-Day Momentum Run is not sustained by motivation.
It is sustained by rhythm.

Rhythm creates consistency.
Consistency creates momentum.
Momentum creates results.

This section gives you the exact daily and weekly tools that top leaders use to stay focused, productive, and emotionally stable throughout the entire 90-day journey.

1. THE DAILY RHYTHM

Your daily rhythm is the heartbeat of your 90-Day Run.
Every day has the same structure, the same priorities, and the same on-negotiables.

Daily Non-Negotiables

- Invitations
- Presentations
- Follow-ups
- Closing
- Personal development
- Energy habits
- Tracking your numbers

These are the activities that build your business and your identity.

The Daily 3

Every morning, choose your Top 3 priorities for the day:

1. The most important business action
2. The most important follow-up
3. The most important personal discipline

If you complete your Top 3, the day is a win — even if everything else becomes chaotic.

The Daily Review

Every evening, ask yourself:

- What did I complete today?
- What needs to be carried into tomorrow?
- What follow-ups are pending?
- What presentations are scheduled?
- What energy leaks must I eliminate?

This keeps your mind clear and your momentum clean.

2. THE WEEKLY RHYTHM

Your weekly rhythm is where you zoom out and ensure your activity aligns with your goals.

Weekly Non-Negotiables

- Team call or leadership call
- Personal development (book, audio, or training)
- Reviewing your numbers
- Planning your presentations for the week
- Checking in with your accountability partner
- Supporting your new people
- Celebrating wins

Weekly rhythm creates stability.
Stability creates duplication.

The Weekly Reset

Once a week, you reset:

- your environment
- your calendar
- your goals
- your energy
- your priorities

This is where you clean up anything that slipped during the week and prepare for a strong next 7 days.

The Weekly Scorecard

Track:

- Invitations sent
- Presentations completed
- Follow-ups done
- Customers enrolled
- Affiliates enrolled
- New people launched
- Personal development hours
- Energy habits completed

What gets measured gets improved.
What gets improved gets duplicated.

3. THE 90-DAY CADENCE

The 90-Day Run has a natural rhythm:

- Daily rhythm → keeps you consistent
- Weekly rhythm → keeps you aligned
- Monthly rhythm → keeps you progressing

This cadence prevents burnout and builds long-term momentum.

Monthly Focus Points

Every 30 days:

- Review your rank goals
- Review your team's progress
- Identify new leaders
- Identify people who need support
- Adjust your strategy
- Celebrate wins
- Reset your energy

This keeps your vision alive and your leadership sharp.

4. THE ACCOUNTABILITY SYSTEM

Accountability is not punishment — it is support.

During the 90-Day Run, you need:

- an accountability partner
- a weekly check-in
- a shared tracker
- honest conversations
- clear expectations

Accountability keeps you aligned with your identity, not your emotions.

5. THE EMOTIONAL RHYTHM

The 90-Day Run is emotional.

You will have:

- high days
- low days
- productive days
- slow days

- exciting days
- frustrating days

This is normal.

Your emotional rhythm must be managed with:

- gratitude
- perspective
- breathwork
- journaling
- silence
- rest
- boundaries

Emotional stability is a leadership skill.

6. THE RHYTHM DECLARATION

“I honour my rhythm.
I honour my numbers.
I honour my commitments.
I stay consistent.
I stay focused.
I stay in momentum.”

SECTION 12. CLOSING IDENTITY DECLARATION

This is the moment of completion. The moment of becoming.
The moment where your old identity ends and your new identity begins.

Read these words slowly.
Read them with presence.
Read them as the person you have become.

THE DECLARATION

I am no longer who I was when I started.
I have reset.
I have risen.
I have transformed.

I am disciplined.	I am focused.
I am consistent.	I honour my word.
I honour my goals.	I honour my future.

I lead with clarity.
I act with purpose.
I protect my energy.
I control my environment.

I am a builder.
I am a leader.
I am a finisher.
